St. John the Evangelist Pro-Life Initiative

*"Healing can be immediate but more often healing is incremental and for me healing was offered to me and continues to be offered at the stage that I am ready to receive it...and I'm not there yet....I pray that whatever I suffer from can help others. It has to have a purpose because...healing from abortion is so deep. That sin was so contrary to God's plan for humanity. When we say "yes" to life we partner with God himself to create a new being. And I said "no" to the most intimate coupling that I as a woman could have and the ramifications for that are sooo deep. I do take the suffering today... as God can use that...he can use that...and maybe that's why he hasn't taken it from me because we still have work to do. And if I can say "yes" to that work then I would gladly take that cross upon myself." Transcribed from "Ep.115 The Truth Behind Chemical Abortion with Elizabeth Gillette" 29:45

JULY 28, 2024

CROSS ROADS

By Deacon Tony

2 Kings 4: 42-44; Psalm 145: 10-11, 15-18;
Ephesians 4: 1-6; John 6: 1-15

In this morning's reading from the Book of Kings, a man gave twenty barley loaves to the prophet, Elisha. Elisha instructed the man to give the loaves to the people to eat. But the man objected because he did not want to bring so little to the one hundred people who had gathered. Elisha insisted. All were fed and there was some food left over. In today's gospel there is a similar scene. Jesus is the fulfillment of the first reading. He multiplied five barley loaves and two fish to feed five thousand. All had their fill, and there were twelve baskets filled with what was left over. Today's psalm assures us that the Lord provides and satisfies us, and is close to all who call upon him, because "The LORD is just in all his ways and holy in all his works."

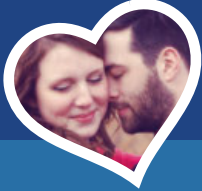

Saint Paul reminds us in the letter to the Ephesians, that we must live lives worthy of our calling to spread the word to feed the hungry (those hungry for food, and those hungry for the Word of God). But we are to do so as Jesus did, with humility, gentleness, and patience, to work with justice, holiness, united in one body in Christ, in the Church, "through the bond of peace: one body, one Spirit, one hope...one Lord, one faith, one baptism; one God and Father of all..."

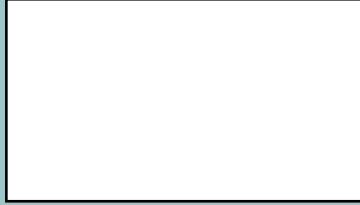

The LORD is always close to us, especially when we call upon him: "Ask and you shall receive." We don't always get what we want, but we always get what we need at our deepest levels to move forward, to spread the good news, to persevere with courage. Let us work together as disciples of Jesus: to feed the hungry, to multiply the faithful, to go forth to make disciples of the whole world, to help and encourage one another.
